HOW THE GOLD RUSH WORKS

- Your boys will travel from town to town and use skills straight from the handbooks for each rank.
- Each team of 4-8 Cub Scouts should bring a “covered wagon” with required supplies.
- Each wagon can include boys of the same rank or of different ranks. A den can have its own wagon.
- Your wagon can be as simple or as fancy as you choose, covered or not. Build your own or use anything with wheels.
- They collect “gold nuggets” along the way. Nuggets are also awarded for teamwork and cheerfulness.
- The Gold Rush is not a competition. No scores will be kept. Boys are rewarded with their “gold nuggets” and knowing they did their best.
- Families are invited to bring a picnic lunch, watch from the sidelines and cheer on their Cub Scout Teams.

Large packs can enter several wagons. Just get a headcount and see how many wagons you can run. Supplies are easily found around the house.
